

ADIA-MIG Manufacturer's Interest Group — An Alliance Of Dental Product Manufacturers & Exporters

A core function for the Australian Dental Industry Association (ADIA) is to foster the development of a domestic manufacturing capability for dental products. To this end, the ADIA-MIG Manufacturers' Interest Group is convened to allow local manufacturers to share the ideas and experiences required to succeed in an internationally competitive market.

Strengthen Relationships With Key Stakeholders —

The ADIA-MIG is your tool to develop relationships with not only your colleagues in the manufacturing sector, but also business organisations and government agencies with an interest in dental product and medical technology manufacturing.

Access To Industry Statistics & Research —

You'll have access to Australian Government data and other intelligence useful to manufacturers such as the ADIA Dental Products Business Confidence Survey and the ADIA Dental Industry Intelligence Report.

Understanding Technical & Regulatory Standards —

As ADIA works with its overseas counterparts to achieve international harmonisation of regulatory standards, you'll gain a front-row seat to witness and learn about the changes that make it easier for you to export products globally.

The ADIA-MIG conducts most of its business via email and the group convenes a twice-yearly forum where you get to meet key external stakeholders able to assist your business strengthen its manufacturing capacity and reach new export markets.

If you work with an ADIA members business that manufacturers and / or exports dental products, you're eligible to join the ADIA-MIG. Take the next step and complete this form.
